Old Business

Several members attended the Union car show and won plaques and Sally Coxen won the top prize at the Bimart car show with her brand new car. Congratulations Sally!!!!!!

John shared with the group that a former member of the Rusty Wheels Car Club, Tim McManus, passed away last week. Debby will send a card to his wife, Laura. Also, a card will be sent to Cindy Foster who has had surgery.

New Business

*John asked if there are any more activities planned for club members. Debby will check with Mary Ann and let people know.

*Ed told the group that Paul Sadler, who is in charge of the upcoming soapbox derby, would like club members to bring their classic cars to the race in Cove on Saturday, September 19th. He added that it would be nice for club members to help out also.

Paul Sadler spoke to the group about the upcoming races. He said that they will be held even if it rains. He said that Haefer Road in Cove will be barricaded and the races will be held there. He asked that if we plan to help out and/or bring cars, we should arrive around 10:00 am. He will assign duties as needed. He told us that the events are insured through NASCAR and that his goal is to make them as safe and fair as possible. There will be a BBQ following the races. Paul also asked members to let him know if we are aware of potential sponsors or groups who would like to have races in their area. He added that Bimart would like to have the soapbox cars at their show next summer.

*Richard introduced our newest member, Levi Gregerson. Welcome Levi!!! Richard added that he feels new members shouldn't have to pay the first year, or that whoever invites them should pay membership for the first year. Virginia said that if people join after the car show, their dues are good for the rest of the current year and the following year.

*Tana said we could talk to Paul Sadler about bringing some of his soapbox cars to our car show next summer.

*Richard told the group that he met with Al Adelsberger of the Marketplace, who is going to have a "welcome back" gathering for EOU students and parents on Tuesday, September 21st. He would like car club members to bring their cars to show. We will be parking in the Marketplace parking lot and should be there at 5:00.
